PROFILE

Craig is a dynamic engaging Client Success Director with 20 years of experience in client facing relationship building roles. He has a passion for training individuals, teams and clients. Craig knows the greatest assets of a company are its people. Take care of your people and they will take care of your clients. Take care of your clients and they will take care of your shareholders!

IDEAL ROLES

Craig will partner with a dynamic company committed to influencing lives not selling widgets. He cares more about people than money! He loves influencing and retaining internal staff to improve lives. Influencing clients through strategic relationships to be successful and retained long term.

Director of Client Success	National Corporate Trainer	Solutions Architect
Sales Enablement	Director of External Affairs	Corporate Evangelist

Craig is a fun loving infectious uplifter while also being committed to team excellence in all interactions. Fun and profits can coexist!

Craig's father was a coach and counselor who trained Craig to see all people through their future potential not their present limitations. Cultivating and motivating individuals to do their best.
